

What is the main issue Paul addresses in 1 Corinthians 1:10-17?

- A. Divisions in the church
- B. Leadership conflicts
- C. Financial disputes
- D. Lack of faith

How does Paul urge the Corinthians to be united?

- A. By ignoring their differences
- B. In the same mind and judgment
- C. By following his own teachings
- D. By appointing a new leader

Who are the people causing divisions in the church?

- A. The Roman authorities
- B. Those who are of Chloe's household
- C. The Corinthian elders
- D. The Jewish community

What is the danger of divisions in the church according to Paul?

- A. It leads to financial ruin
- B. It results in political unrest
- C. It undermines the message of the cross
- D. It causes physical harm

How does Paul emphasize the importance of unity?

- A. By threatening them with punishment

- B. By excluding the dissenters
- C. By offering them monetary incentives
- D. By reminding them of their common faith in Christ

What does Paul use as a symbol of division in the church?

- A. Prayer
- B. The Lord's Supper
- C. Circumcision
- D. Baptism

How does Paul describe his role in the church?

- A. He was sent to perform miracles
- B. He was tasked with resolving disputes
- C. He was not sent to baptize but to preach the gospel
- D. He was appointed as the head of the church

What is Paul's main concern regarding the divisions in the church?

- A. That the leaders will lose their authority
- B. That the members will lose their salvation
- C. That the church will lose its financial support
- D. That the cross of Christ might be emptied of its power

How does Paul appeal to the Corinthians to resolve their conflicts?

- A. By splitting into separate factions
- B. By being of the same mind and the same judgment
- C. By engaging in physical combat
- D. By seeking outside arbitration

What does Paul emphasize as the essential focus of the church?

- A. The establishment of social hierarchy
- B. The preaching of the gospel
- C. The performance of religious rituals
- D. The accumulation of wealth

PlayBibleQuiz.com