

According to Job 13:1, what did Job say to his friends?

- A. I am blameless and upright
- B. I have heard many such things
- C. I am suffering unjustly
- D. You are all wise counselors

In Job 13:4, what does Job accuse his friends of being?

- A. righteous judges
- B. faithful companions
- C. worthless physicians
- D. compassionate helpers

According to Job 13:7, what did Job ask his friends not to do?

- A. offer sacrifices on his behalf
- B. speak falsely for God
- C. judge him based on appearances
- D. abandon him in his suffering

In Job 13:9, what does Job say will happen if God examines his righteousness?

- A. he will be rewarded with riches
- B. he will be proven guilty of sin
- C. he will come out like gold
- D. he will be condemned to eternal suffering

According to Job 13:12, what does Job accuse his friends of doing?

- A. changing their answers

- B. ignoring his suffering
- C. comforting him with lies
- D. praying for his restoration

In Job 13:13, what does Job ask his friends to do?

- A. bring him offerings for his sacrifice
- B. mourn for his losses
- C. leave him alone in his misery
- D. be silent and let him speak

According to Job 13:15, what does Job declare even if God kills him?

- A. I will seek revenge
- B. I will hope in Him
- C. I will abandon my faith
- D. I will curse His name

In Job 13:18, what does Job ask God to do?

- A. forgive him for his sins
- B. clear him of his wrongs
- C. punish him severely
- D. reveal the reason for his suffering

According to Job 13:22, what does Job ask God to do?

- A. restore his wealth and health
- B. speak and reply to him
- C. send angels to comfort him
- D. punish his enemies

In Job 13:28, what does Job refer to his friends as?

- A. a crumbling wall
- B. a faithful support
- C. a comforting presence
- D. a guiding light

PlayBibleQuiz.com