

According to Job 14:1, what is said about man born of a woman?

- A. strong and resilient
- B. protected and carefree
- C. immortal and everlasting
- D. few days and full of trouble

In Job 14:2, what comparison is made between a man and a flower?

- A. like a river he flows endlessly
- B. like a rock he stands strong forever
- C. like a tree he grows tall and mighty
- D. like a flower he comes forth and withers away

According to Job 14:5, what are man's days determined by?

- A. the approval of others
- B. the strength of his will
- C. his own ambitions
- D. the number of his months

In Job 14:7, what illustration is used to describe the hope of a tree?

- A. it will be uprooted and forgotten
- B. it will wither and die
- C. if it is cut down, it will sprout again
- D. it will bear fruit forever

According to Job 14:10, what happens to a man when he dies?

- A. he lies down and does not rise

- B. he ascends to heaven
- C. he continues to walk the earth
- D. he is reborn in a new body

In Job 14:13, what does Job plead with God to do?

- A. forgive his sins completely
- B. hide him in Sheol until his wrath is past
- C. give him eternal life
- D. grant him prosperity and fame

According to Job 14:14, what does Job ask about his life?

- A. What purpose do my sufferings serve?
- B. Why was I born into this world?
- C. How can I find peace in death?
- D. If a man dies, will he live again?

In Job 14:19, what fate befalls waters and stones?

- A. they remain unchanged forever
- B. they wear away the stones
- C. they nourish the earth
- D. they create new life

According to Job 14:22, what is man's hope after death?

- A. he will be reunited with loved ones
- B. his flesh will have pain and his soul will mourn
- C. he will find eternal peace and joy
- D. he will be free from all suffering

In Job 14:12, what comparison is made between man and a river?

- A. man flows from birth to death like a river
- B. man's deeds are as powerful as a river's flow
- C. man lies down and does not rise till the heavens are no more
- D. man's life is as fleeting as a river's current

PlayBibleQuiz.com