

What is the primary animal used for a peace offering?

- A. A dove
- B. A lamb
- C. A male or female goat
- D. A cow

What should be done with the fat of the animal in a peace offering?

- A. It should be given to the priest
- B. It should be eaten by the offerer
- C. It should be thrown away
- D. It should be burned on the altar

How should the blood of the peace offering be presented?

- A. Sprinkled on the altar
- B. Poured on the ground
- C. Applied to the offerer's forehead
- D. Drank by the priest

Who is allowed to eat the meat from a peace offering?

- A. Any Israelite
- B. The offerer and his family
- C. Only the priest
- D. No one, it must all be burned

What is the purpose of a peace offering according to Leviticus?

- A. To show off one's wealth

- B. To give thanks to God and make peace with Him
- C. To seek forgiveness for sins
- D. To test the faith of the offerer

How long should the meat from a peace offering be eaten?

- A. Within one week
- B. Within one month
- C. There is no time limit
- D. Within two days

What part of the animal should be waved before the Lord in a peace offering?

- A. The tail
- B. The head
- C. The breast
- D. The hooves

What type of bread should accompany a peace offering?

- A. Leavened loaves
- B. Unleavened cakes mixed with oil
- C. No bread is required
- D. Barley bread

What should be done with any leftover meat from a peace offering?

- A. It should be eaten by the priest
- B. It should be sold in the market
- C. It should be burned on the third day
- D. It should be given to the poor

Who is responsible for preparing the animal for a peace offering?

- A. The offerer
- B. The priest
- C. No one, it is done by God
- D. A designated servant

PlayBibleQuiz.com