

How many times did the landowner go out to hire workers?

- A. Two times
- B. Five times
- C. Three times
- D. Seven times

At what time did the landowner hire the workers for the first time?

- A. Evening
- B. Late afternoon
- C. Early in the morning
- D. Noon

How much did the landowner agree to pay the workers hired in the evening?

- A. Three denarii
- B. Half a denarius
- C. A denarius
- D. Two denarii

Who complained about the landowner's payment system?

- A. Those who were hired first
- B. The other workers
- C. The landowner
- D. Those who were hired last

What did the landowner tell the workers who complained?

- A. I am not being unfair to you

- B. You are right, I should pay you more
- C. I will reduce your pay
- D. You should be grateful for what you received

Why did the landowner pay the workers the same amount regardless of when they worked?

- A. To test the workers' loyalty
- B. Because it was his money to do as he pleased
- C. To create equality among the workers
- D. He made a mistake in calculating the wages

What lesson can be learned from the Parable of the Workers in the Vineyard?

- A. It is unfair to pay everyone the same
- B. Hard work always leads to greater rewards
- C. God's grace is available to all, regardless of when they come to Him
- D. Timing is everything in life

How did the landowner respond to the workers he hired last?

- A. Friend, I am doing you no wrong
- B. I will pay you double for your hard work
- C. You are lucky to have been hired at all
- D. You should be grateful for the opportunity

What time of day did the landowner go out to hire workers for the last time?

- A. The eleventh hour
- B. Noon
- C. Early morning
- D. Afternoon

How did the landowner answer the workers who asked why he paid them the same as

- A. I made a mistake in the payment calculation
- B. Is your eye evil because I am good?
- C. You should be happy with what you received
- D. Because I felt sorry for you

PlayBibleQuiz.com